Get the facts on lottery tickets

Nothing gives us a case of the "What ifs...?" like lottery tickets. What if we won big on LOTTO 6/49 or Atlantic PAYDAY? What if we scratched and won $1,000 a week for 25 years? What to do with a $150 win on a Breakopen ticket or $500 won on a PRO-LINE ticket?

That's the true fun of lottery tickets. It gets us thinking about the possibilities and lets our imagination roam free. Below the surface, we know the chances of winning the top prize are remote. Still, it's a pleasant dream.

The main types of Lottery Tickets

The "Pick Your Numbers" Jackpot and Draw Games

These are the games where you either choose your own numbers or accept randomly generated "Insta PIK" numbers (like LOTTO 6/49). If your numbers match the numbers drawn at random, you win. Payouts tend to be large, but so are the odds against winning the big prize.

What are the odds?

Lottery games offered by the Atlantic Lottery Corporation (ALC) are games of chance. Sure, they're designed to provide you with entertainment. But they're also designed to raise money for important programs and services.

You can play the same number or numbers game after game, or you can choose different numbers every time. Since winning numbers are drawn totally at random under strictly controlled circumstances, each set of numbers has exactly the same chance of winning. For example, in LOTTO 6/49, the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 have as much chance of being selected as six unrelated numbers. It's totally random.

Draw game odds

We've all watched with excitement how high the jackpot can build. While the dream of winning is exciting, it's important to keep in mind what the true chances of winning the top prize are. Of course, as the prizes get larger, more tickets are sold, thereby making the odds of winning the entire top prize even higher. On a typical draw, here are the odds of winning the top prize for some of our draw games.

SUPER 7	1 in 62,891,499
LOTTO 6/49	1 in 13,983,816
Atlantic 49	1 in 6,991,908
KENO Atlantic	1 in 2,147,181
Atlantic PAYDAY	1 in 1,353,275
PIK 4	1 in 14,125

Odds on Scratch'n Win Tickets

These are the tickets you buy at any ALC retailer. You scratch off a thin latex film on the play area of the tickets revealing symbols or prize amounts. Multiple combinations of symbols or prize amounts determine if you win, and what you win. Again, generally speaking, the larger the payout, the greater the odds are against winning.

The odds of winning the top prizes vary from game to game. The following table explains the odds of winning the top prize value on Scratch'n Win products sold at the Charlottetown Driving Park Entertainment Centre (CDPEC).

Match three identical symbols and you win the corresponding prize amount. While we always pay out the same amount, the odds vary based on where prizes are allocated in the prize structure. Sports Products

PRO-LINE and Over/Under

The odds of winning on sports products fluctuate due to the unique nature of these games. Results are tied to the outcome of professional or amateur sporting events, so they are completely beyond the control of those placing wagers. Most people who play ALC sports products spend more money than they win. As with all games of chance, the house holds an advantage. For more information on how our sports games operate, visit the Gaming Information Centre or check out www.alc.ca.
